

Crossings Plan Meets No Check At City Hearing

State Public Service Man Asks for Any Dissenting Opinion, but Gets No Response

Crowd Is Present

Over-All Cost of Program $5,631,621, Provides for $100,000 Depot

A revised plan for elimination of city grade crossings met with no objections at a hearing yesterday afternoon before James A. O'Connor of the Public Service Commission in the supervisors' room at the court house. The hearing attracted a large crowd.

The new plan, prepared by Edward I. McCaffery, consulting engineer with Sandborn & Bogert, and now a member of the local engineering staff, was explained in detail under questioning by Corporation Counsel John M. Cashion.

Mr. O'Connor's question, "Has anybody any objections to this plan," at the conclusion of the hearing, met with no response, and this was taken to mean that all present were satisfied with the suggested revisions, and the plan as a whole as it now stands.

In brief the plan provides for depressing the West Shore tracks from a point approximately 1,000 feet north of O'Reilly street to a point about 200 feet north of Flatbush avenue, where they will meet the existing grade. In addition provision is made for relocating the Wallkill Valley tracks, starting at South Wall street and going to a point near Barmann avenue. Seven grade crossings on the West Shore and two on the Wallkill Valley will be eliminated under the plan, which involves about 7,000 feet of track.

No Marginal Roadways

In general the plan differs from the one previously proposed in that it does not provide for marginal roadways, makes different provision in regard to ramps and establishes a new alignment on Flatbush avenue in order to avoid damage to properties there. These points were brought out under questioning by Mayor C. J. Heiselman, following direct examination of Mr. McCaffery by Attorney Cashion.

The total estimated over-all cost of the plan, according to figures submitted by Mr. McCaffery, is $5,631,621. This includes expenditures on account of the West Shore and Wallkill Valley roadways, with one item of over $100,000 for a new station, totaling $5,062,811; changing and relocating sewer lines, $148,410; relocation and changes in water mains, $106,000; acquisition of real estate, $314,400.

George W. Moore, who testified that he had been city assessor for the past eight years and had been interested in real estate for some 20 years, was called to the stand to testify as to the value of real estate to be taken and the figures on this item used in the estimate given by Mr. McCaffery. He said that he considered that $314,400 was a fair and reasonable valuation of the property to be taken.

Would Raise Broadway

At Broadway it is planned to raise the roadway four feet, while there will be sidewalks on two levels to accommodate pedestrians. The raising of the grade here will necessitate purchase of some properties on the west side of Grenfell avenue. Tracks will be depressed at this point to give a minimum clearance of 19 feet above the rails. As to the U. & D. tracks no changes are contemplated and they will cross at about the same grade as now exists. Because of this it will be necessary to block off Smith avenue at either side of the West Shore tracks.

Ten Brock avenue will be raised about 11 feet under the new plan, a viaduct starting at Cornell street and ending about 200 feet west of Grand street.

Foxhall avenue will be raised 15 feet, a viaduct running from Derenbacher street to 100 feet east of O'Neill street.

Gage street and the Cemetery drive will be blocked off, with a footbridge erected at Cemetery drive.

At Flatbush the grade will be raised 24 feet.

It was brought out that bridges would average about 30 feet in width, that Broadway would be about its present width, around 38 feet, and that industries would be serviced as at present or in some similar manner. That Railroad avenue would be raised approximately 2 1/2 feet.

Attorney Wheeler, of the New York Central, said that the plan presented was possible and feasible, that it involved the expenditure of a lot of money and many changes and should be given careful attention. He added that the railroad asked for no improvements and that the changes con-

Youth Enlists Record Numbers Join

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP).—Twenty-one years after the World War armistice, young men are joining the army, navy, marine corps and national guard in record numbers.

War department officials reported that regular army enlistments during October exceeded 20,000, the largest number recruited in any month except in wartime.

The army already has passed 195,000 in an intensive drive to attain by the end of the year the strength of 227,000 enlisted men which President Roosevelt directed this fall in proclaiming a limited national emergency.

Committee Parleys To Halt Political Truce on Embargo

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP).—The political truce that marked the neutrality debate is expected to be forgotten in the next few weeks when calls go out for national committee meetings to select dates and sites for the 1940 presidential conventions.

More than half a dozen cities have been proposed tentatively for the conventions, but neither Republican nor Democratic officials appear to be in a hurry to make a selection.

Some Republican leaders, it was said at party headquarters, still favor a waiting game. They hope to gain a tactical advantage by holding their committee meetings last so that they could set a later convention date and obtain advance knowledge of the Democratic program.

Other Republican groups were reported opposed to this strategy on the theory that it would make little difference. They believe, and officers at Democratic headquarters agreed, that the Democratic platform will be largely an endorsement of the Roosevelt record and that nothing could be gained by meeting later.

Held in December
The national committee meetings usually are held in December preceding a convention year, although they sometimes go over until January. The conventions customarily are held in June.

The Republicans will have an opportunity to discuss a meeting time for the full national committee at a session next month of the executive committee, a smaller group.

Chairman John Hamilton, confined to his apartment here with an infected hand, is expected to set a date soon for the executive committee meeting. It originally was set for September 26, but was postponed when President Roosevelt called a special session of congress.

Besides setting a date for the national committee meeting, the executive group will receive reports from its field staff, finance, publicity, and women's divisions, and discuss in general plans for the 1940 campaign.

One Formal Bid

Although Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia, San Francisco, and St. Louis are all in the running, only one city has made a formal bid.

Witnesses Give Conflicting Stories On Windingstad Crash Near Esopus

Conflicting stories as to which direction from which the Edgar Windingstad car came as it approached the automobile operated by Quay Sargent on September 23, last, when a crash at Esopus resulted in the death of two men and serious injury to several others, was testified to Thursday afternoon by State Trooper John Metzger of the B. C. I.

At the conclusion of testimony it was said that Miss Ortiz was unable to be present because she was still suffering from a fracture of the skull. Counsel promised that she would appear without any summons if her condition permitted on an adjourned date. The hearing was adjourned until December 4 at 10 o'clock.

Trooper Metzger said that he had talked to the people involved in the crash and they had told him their stories so far as they could recall the incident. They were unable to tell much regarding the crash and on the examination conducted before Coroner Jesse McHugh Thursday the occupants of

Common Council Approves $25,000 For WPA Projects

Aldermanic Board Acts on Recommendation From Mayor Who Cites Present Emergency

Will Hold Sale

Bond Sale Will Be Held; Authorization Ordinance Is Adopted

Declaring that an emergency still exists in Kingston, due to unemployment, Mayor C. J. Heiselman in a communication to the Common Council Thursday evening, recommended that the council appropriate $25,000 as the city's share of WPA expenses. The council adopted the mayor's recommendation.

The aldermen also approved the issuance of temporary certificates of indebtedness in the sum of $25,000 to be paid from the proceeds of a bond sale to be held later. An ordinance authorizing the bond issue was adopted.

Mayor's Letter
Mayor Heiselman's communication to the council read as follows: "Attached hereto is a communication from the city engineer, dated November 9, 1939, which is self-explanatory."

Last July Congress passed a law requiring the discharge of all WPA employees who had been continuously employed by the WPA for 18 months or more. As a result, 287 persons were discharged by the WPA. It appeared that as the result of this law our local share of the cost of WPA would be greatly reduced. A reduction in force did occur, which was followed by a reduction in cost, but these reductions were not sustained. Of the 287 discharged, 178 were re-investigated and re-certified by our welfare department, and have been re-employed by the WPA. In addition, 35 persons on home relief rolls who were not on the WPA on July 1 have been certified to the WPA and are now employed, making a total of 213 persons who are now on the rolls of the WPA, which were discharged. In addition, there are 13 persons on unexecuted assignments and 15 un-filled requisitions. When these persons are employed, the replacement will total 241. Then, there are 55 employees on the home relief rolls which are eligible for assignment to WPA. Our Welfare Department has today requested the state WPA administrator to have a survey made for the purpose of transferring these 55 men to the WPA. This will increase the replacements to a total of 296. This will mean while 287 were discharged in July, by the middle of November they will have been replaced by 296, an increase of nine persons.

In addition to those on WPA the home relief rolls now total 318 families.

I hereby declare that an emergency still exists in the city of Kingston due to unemployment and recommend that you honorable body appropriate the sum of $25,000.00 to supply materials, supplies, equipment and incidental expenses as the city's share of the cost of providing work for the unemployed on Work Projects Administration projects in this city, and that your honorable body authorize the issuance of $25,000.00 in bonds covering the appropriation recommended herein, said bonds to be sold in the early part of 1940, and that you authorize the issuance of temporary certificates of indebtedness, said certificates to be paid from the proceeds of said bond issue when sold next year.

Respectfully yours,
C. J. HEISELMAN, Mayor

Norton's Letter

City Engineer Norton's communication read as follows: "Your honorable body has appropriated for WPA purposes during 1939, the sum of $75,000.00. This sum has been expended to provide engineering supervision, materials, supplies,

'Miracle' Saves Hitler From Death in Munich Beer Hall

This is the wreckage by the explosion which ripped through Munich's Burgerbrau beer cellar just 11 minutes after Adolf Hitler had left the building on his way back to Berlin from an anniversary celebration of his unsuccessful 1923 putsch. Seven persons were killed and 63 were injured, 29 of them gravely, when the explosion tumbled the ceiling down on the celebrating crowd. Nazis called it a "miracle" that Hitler was not killed. This first radio picture of the scene, transmitted to New York from Berlin, shows a section of the wrecked ceiling just in back of the point where the ceiling touches the floor is the spot where Hitler stood while addressing his admirers.

Armistice Day Marks Financial Shutdown

New York, Nov. 10 (AP).—Armistice Day in the United States and Remembrance Day in Canada will be generally observed in those countries tomorrow by security and commodity exchanges.

The holiday, falling as it does on a Saturday, will produce the most complete world-wide financial shutdown in recent years, with the exception of Christmas and New Year's day.

The Amsterdam Bourse will occupy the financial spotlight tomorrow. The London money market and Liverpool produce exchange also will be opened.

November 11 in England is not a bank holiday but normal as well as war-time Saturday suspension of business will close the London Stock Exchange, Liverpool cotton and other markets. The Paris bourse will be closed.

Legion Will Hold Armistice Ball, Program, 8 P. M.

This is Armistice eve, and the boys of 1918 who gave up their jobs to fight for democracy will celebrate the signing of the pact that ended the World War tonight at the municipal auditorium with their 21st annual Victory Ball.

Commander John Melville of Kingston Post, American Legion, hopes to greet one of the largest turnouts at this year's social function which features one of the most elaborate entertainment programs ever presented by the ex-servicemen.

"Nothing has been spared in the way of preparing for the ball," said Commander Melville. "Chairman William T. Roedel of the entertainment committee has prepared a program that should top anything ever presented in the way of a show," he told reporters, "and the two local orchestras, that of Jules Tellier and Jacob Mollott are ready to play just the sort of music that suits dance lovers."

Chairman Roedel, who procured his entertainment from the artists bureau of WOR radio station, has a special act tonight which he says will be a treat in addition to the sparkling program he has announced. Lazy Dan will act as master of ceremonies, having been signed to replace John B. Gambling, who is ill of bronchial pneumonia. Lazy Dan is one of the best known radio characters and should be as popular with his act as the man of Musical Clock fame.

The entertainment program follows:
Glorifying the American Girl—Janette Hackett Revue, with nine lovely girls.
Soprano—Florence Wyman of WOR.
Dance Poem—Leda and Lashay of the St. Moritz.
Comedy Novelty—Novelle Brothers, International Casino.
The Firefly—Janette Hackett Revue.
Baritone—Alfred Chigi of the Chicago Opera Co.

U. S. Army Laying Submarine Mines Along Two Coasts

Mines Placed in Big Lots of 19 Each, Are Wired to Shore Control; Are No Menace

Fortress Monroe, Va., Nov. 10 (AP).—The army is laying "nest eggs" up and down the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

They are submarine mines, put away for the possible rainy day of attempted invasion by a foreign fleet. Each contains 200 pounds of TNT and can be fired electrically from an observation point miles away.

The mines are harmless for any American or neutral ship, even if it struck them directly, since they do not explode on impact as do mines used by the navy.

But the network, officials contend, would be fatal for any enemy battleship or submarine attempting to invade a harbor or the channels into coastal waterways.

Each mine, in strings of 19 mines each, placed at strategic points in harbor entrances, is wired directly to a shore control point through an electrical cable. The mines are attached to anchors 100 feet apart and lie about 30 feet below the surface.

The mine defense crew of any harbor knows the exact location of every row of "eggs" and can check just as precisely the position of a ship as it moves toward any row.

By triangulation, which is sighting on the ship and plotting the intersecting lines, the course of the ship can be traced. Officers say they can predict within a few seconds when the ship will pass over a certain mine.

Then a button is pushed to fire the mine. Since a battleship is from 90 to 100 feet wide and extends about 30 feet below the surface, the 200 pounds of TNT going off next to its hull would cave it in like an eggshell.

The ship might not be sunk, unless the charge hit its powder magazines and blew it up, but it would be put out of commission. Submarines are even more vulnerable, since they carry lighter armor, and the shock of the mines is effective against them at much greater distances.

President Says at Press Meeting That He Thinks Action Would Be Legal; No Decision Is Made by Capital Bureaus

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP).—Maritime labor leaders said after a White House conference today that they believed President Roosevelt ultimately would approve a proposed transfer to Panama registry of eight United States Lines ships barred from the European war zone by the neutrality act.

A short time earlier at his press conference Mr. Roosevelt had expressed the view that transfer of the vessel would be legal, but he added that the question of whether to permit it still was being

Two-Headed Baby Is Operated Upon

Doctor Removes One Head and Child May Become Normal Youngster

Kingsport, Tenn., Nov. 10 (AP).—A baby boy born October 17 with two heads, one of which was later removed, is "coming along nicely" and may develop into a normal youngster, Dr. J. C. Stutzer, Bristol, Tenn., physician, reported today.

Dr. Stutzer said the baby weighed nine pounds at birth and had a second, abnormal head at the base of the normal head.

"It had the outline of a head with eyes, nose, mouth and hair but no ears," the physician declared.

Dr. Stutzer, with a record of

The labor leaders who conferred at length with the president on seamen's unemployment arising from discontinuance of North Atlantic shipping were Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (CIO); Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA); and Matthew Dushane, chairman of the Seafarers' International Union (AFI).

Mr. Roosevelt had disclosed at the press conference that a program of training would be undertaken, under the already established maritime commission-coast guard training system, to give as many as possible of the unemployed men work. He said also that he would recommend to Congress that seamen be brought fully under the social security law, thus making available to them benefits of the unemployment insurance section.

Netherlands Ends All Army Leaves; Border Shooting

Government Flooding Low Sections; Some Citizens Are Removed; Belgians Dig Trenches

'Hitler' Stoned

Amsterdam, Nov. 10 (AP).—The lowland countries took swift, mysterious defense measures today, Netherlands standing guard on their newly-flooded "water line" of protection and Belgian soldiers digging new trenches in the east.

A strange shooting incident on the Netherlands side of the German frontier near Venloo was followed by withdrawal of all Netherlands regular army leaves, placing of guards around public buildings, inundation of water defense areas and stringent regulations of transportation.

Reports of the border incident varied, one saying two persons were killed, another that only one was wounded.

Both agreed several persons had been carried into Germany after the shooting.

Carried Into Germany

Witnesses at the Venloo customs station said a German automobile stopped at the border, and that its occupants walked into the Netherlands and engaged in a gun battle with occupants of a Netherlands car. Several persons from the latter machine then were carried into Germany, they said.

Venloo is near the neck of the Maastricht "Appendix," which loops southward between Germany and Belgium. It is opposite the German munitions center of Essen.

The government began flooding low sections through the center of the country, including a wide strip in Utrecht province and another extending eastward between the Maas and Waal rivers. Residents of "water line" villages were removed.

After a cabinet meeting which lasted until early today, the high command ordered the removal from numerous martial law areas of all ships undesirable for defense purposes.

Ambulance units were ordered on duty at the Hague, presumably as an air raid precaution.

Buses have been requisitioned and many trains taken out of service, apparently to be prepared to remove the population to areas west of the flood defenses.

Window Is Broken

Berlin, Nov. 10 (AP).—A large plate glass window in the store of Heinrich Hoffman, personal photographer to Adolf Hitler, was smashed today by a missile apparently aimed at a huge picture of the fuhrer.

Hoffman returned yesterday from Munich, where he attended the celebration of the 1923 putsch anniversary and narrowly escaped being caught in the blast which wrecked the historic Burgerbrau cellar.

Police dug piece by piece through debris nine feet deep searching for telltale fingerprints and metal scraps in the wreckage. Nazi shrine and held an undisclosed number of persons, at least on suspicion.

Authorities were convinced that experts set the time bomb intended for Hitler.

Monsignor Cesare Orsenigo, papal nuncio in Berlin, visited the fuhrer, meanwhile, to express the felicitations of Pope Pius XII on his escape.

Officials canvassed the whole nation for information that might lead to the assassins who set off the explosion in which six men and a woman were killed and 63 other persons injured.

Nazi suspicions turned toward the British secret service and Jews, but searchers hunted at home and abroad for clues that might fix the blame for the blast which missed the fuhrer by only 11 minutes Wednesday night.

Spoke 55 Minutes

Germans who heard a broadcast of the fuhrer's address at the beer hall celebration of the 1923 Nazi putsch were asked to report any radio listeners who might have commented, "nothing happened," or who asked, "Why did the fuhrer speak so briefly?" He spoke for 55 minutes.

In addition to a reward of 600,000 marks ($240,000) offered earlier for aid in tracking down the perpetrators, Heinrich Himmler, chief of all Nazi police, offered 300,000 marks ($120,000) to anyone abroad who supplied information.

Witnesses Relate Varying Stories On Esopus Crash

Windingstad, driver of the Hudson car which was coming north, and also the death of Thomas V. Murray, Jr., of Poughkeepsie, a passenger in the Sargent car going south.

Trooper Metzger said that Sargent had told him that while he believed the car approaching had come from the right of the road and swung to its left, he was unable to explain how under that circumstance the cars had come together as they did.

Previous witnesses had testified that the Windingstad car had approached from the south, apparently on its right of the center lane and that when a short distance away had swung sharply to its left and then Sargent appeared to swing his car to his left to avoid contact. The cars came together and skid marks indicated that the Hudson of Windingstad had been forced backward a distance of 28 feet 6 inches before the two cars locked together came to rest. They were then in the center of the road with the Buick locked in the right side of the Hudson.

Tells of Interview

Trooper Metzger said at the inquest that he had interviewed the occupants of the Buick car at the hospital and had been told that Sargent was driving southerly to get the girls back to New Paltz by 12 o'clock midnight. They had said that Sargent was not intoxicated. They also said that the tires on the Buick apparently had been soft and, as he recalled it, some of the girls had said that Sargent should cut down his speed because of the tires. The passengers in the car had told of seeing the light approach them but were unable to explain where they came from when they appeared ahead.

Charles Helmes of Katonah, who suffered a very severe injury to his jaw was unable to talk at first, later did talk to Trooper Metzger and his story had been about the same as the others.

Sargent told Metzger that in his opinion the car came from the right of the road but could not explain why or how it collided with the Buick car as it did. Metzger said he had talked to Helmes, Sargent and all three of the girls in the car.

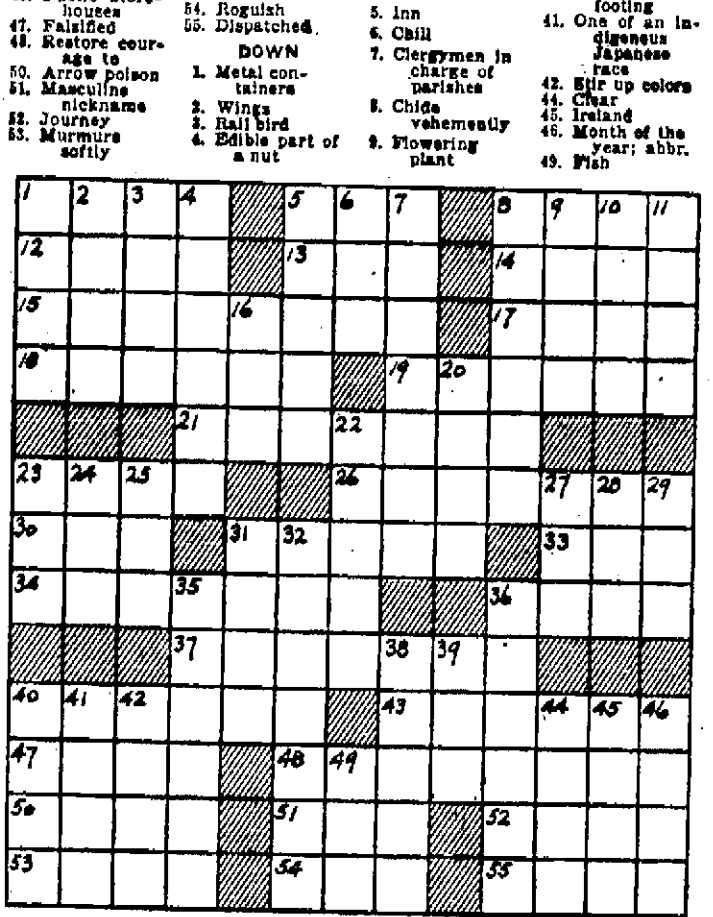

Sargent fixed his speed at about 40 miles an hour and said very shortly after he saw the lights there was the impact. He also said, Trooper Metzger said, that he had four or five scotch highballs during the evening; he had drinks at The Lorraine on the Highland-New Paltz road and also something to eat and drink at the former Merry-Go-Round near Port Ewen.

Trooper Reilly on Stand
State Trooper Arthur Reilly followed and told of his investigation after the crash. The rear wheel of the Buick was about two feet from the east edge of the highway and was in contact with about the middle of the Hudson coupe when he saw it. The Hudson coupe was about in the middle of the road which is a three lane concrete road. Trooper Reilly told of skid marks and a gouge apparently made by some iron portion of a car on the pavement. The skid marks were 50 feet in length and were on the right or easterly lane of the road as the Hudson car approached from the south. These marks were from 2 1/2 to three feet from the east edge of the road. There is also a wide dirt shoulder to the east of the cement pavement.

When he examined the road the skid marks were on up north some 25 feet from the point where the cars had come to a rest as though the collision had taken place up the road and the Hudson had been pushed backward. These skid marks curved slightly toward the center of the road but did not quite reach the center. The Buick car was about in the middle of the road and the Hudson slightly further to the west.

At a house where two of the girls were he was told they were unable to tell anything of the crash except that they were going south from the Merry-Go-Round to their homes. They could not say who drove the car.

Miss Clarke Testifies
Miss Claire I. Clarke of 205 Grand avenue, Poughkeepsie, was called and said she with Sargent and Murray left Poughkeepsie about 7:30, driving to New Paltz to meet Miss Powell. They went to The Lorraine and met Helmes and Miss Ortiz and after about an hour and a half during which Sargent had a couple of highballs, they left for Port Ewen. They left Port Ewen about 11 o'clock or shortly after. Sargent had one or two drinks before leaving.

Miss Clarke said Sargent seemed normal and talked well when they left. Their speed was 40 to 45 miles an hour and she could recall no truck or car being passed just as they reached Esopus. She said she did not recall hearing the tires squeak and anyone talking about the tires being soft. No one told Sargent to "take it easy," she said.

When they entered the curve at Esopus she said the Buick was on its right side of the road and ahead about 100 feet she saw lights of a car on its right. This car was coming "fairly fast, about 50 miles an hour" she said when she suddenly saw the lights cross the road in front of the Buick car toward its left and Quay Sargent swerved his car to his left to avoid the crash. She was rendered unconscious and did not recall anything until she was at the hospital. She knew nothing of the crash or the position of the cars.

Charles Helmes Appears

Charles Helmes, who spoke with difficulty because of the fact his jaws are wired together as the result of a severe fracture of the jaw suffered in the crash, said he lived at Katonah. He told of meeting the party at The Lorraine. Sargent had a couple of drinks and they went to Port Ewen. As the car left The Lorraine and pulled out in the road around a curve the tires squeaked and Sargent remarked his tires were soft. It was at this time Helmes said some of the girls said something about taking it easy. Shortly after 11 they left to return to New Paltz.

Helmes placed their speed at 40 to 45 miles an hour as they drove south. Sargent had a drink at the former Merry-Go-Round but was normal when he left. Helmes said he was seated in the rear of the car with Miss Ortiz and Miss Powell.

As they entered the village of Esopus Helmes said he saw lights 50 to 100 feet ahead. Their car was in its own lane at the time and the other car seemed to be in its own lane. When about 50 feet away it swerved to its left. There were no other cars near at the time. Sargent swerved his car to avoid an accident and almost immediately there was a crash. The crash took place near the white line in the middle of the center lane of the three strip pavement. He said he believed the Buick was still on the right of the center of the road when the crash happened.

Statue of Liberty

A Frenchman, Frederic Bartholdi, designed the Statue of Liberty for the Franco-American union in 1874. It was built by popular subscription in France to commemorate the hundredth anniversary of American independence, and took five years to complete. It was mounted in Paris in October, 1881. The American pedestal for the statue, built by popular subscription here, was built between 1883 and 1886, and the statue was erected on an iron framework bolted firmly to the stone pedestal. It was dedicated October 23, 1886. The statue is of copper sheet 3/16 in. in thickness. Its total weight is 225 tons, including 100 tons of copper. From the water level to the top of pedestal is 149 feet 10 inches; from the statue base to top of torch 151 feet 5 inches. From the heel to top of head is 111 feet 6 inches. Forty persons can stand comfortably in the head, and the torch will hold 12 people.

Civil War Spy

Belle Boyd, Confederate spy in the Civil war, was but 17 when her exploits began. During the next two years she made use of opportunities in her home towns of Martinsburg and Front Royal, Va., for gathering information on Union activities unsuspected and conveying it to Stonewall Jackson. She was twice arrested and imprisoned, but each time soon released. In 1863 she escaped to England, where she went on the stage. Subsequently she played in New York and in stock companies in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys.

Time Out

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—The sign on an East Side church lawn didn't mean members of the flock were weary of well-doing, but it actually read: "No Christian Endeavor until September 15."

CHILDREN SEE TIGHTROPE RIDER FALL

An audience of 4,000 children at a Shrine circus in Baltimore saw Joseph Cherlock, 30, (above) fall 40 feet when he lost his balance while riding on the shoulders of a bicyclist who was performing on a tightrope. Cherlock is shown in a hospital where it was found he had fractures of both arms and one leg, besides possible internal injuries.

Chairman O'Connor adjourned the hearing, subject to call, with possibility that at the next meeting the matter might be concluded.

Among those present at the hearing Thursday in addition to Mayor Heislman and other city officials, was F. W. Burleigh, who represented the state department of public works and who during the hearing asked a number of pertinent questions.

In submitting his detailed estimate of the cost of making the changes involved in this present plan, Engineer McCaffery listed the following property owners whose lands would be affected. He said that in some cases it would be necessary to take the entire property, while in others but a portion would be taken:

Seek Pact for Chilean Trade

U. S. Wants More Business With South American Republic.

WASHINGTON.—In the long-term program for developing trade between the United States and other American countries, negotiations looking to a trade agreement with Chile are now being emphasized. Chile's total foreign trade last year was $244,073,000. In this the United States shared to the extent of more than $50,000,000, but that amount was 25 per cent less than in the next preceding year.

"The Chilean negotiations follow trade agreements that have already been made by the United States with Canada, Cuba, Haiti, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Colombia, Ecuador and Brazil," recalls a bulletin from the National Geographic society.

"Chile has a population of 4,600,000 or approximately that of Massachusetts on an area more than 34 times that of Massachusetts. It borders the southern Pacific coast of South America, running almost north and south for 2,627 miles, and varies in width from 105 to 223 miles.

Vast Mineral Resources.
"Frequent dust storms, mirages, and often frost at night, feature the hot arid desert section of northern Chile, which for many years has furnished most of the country's revenue. It supplies all the world's natural nitrate as well as 90 per cent of the iodine, almost half the borax, and 18 per cent of the world's copper. Chile's mineral exports account for more than 75 per cent of the total, the United States taking one-fourth, including practically all the iron ore.

"Chilean nitrate has for years fertilized the wheat and cotton fields of the United States. Last year's supply (1938) cost $11,500,000, but a part went into the manufacture of explosives. The United States imported more than $10,000,000 in crude copper and more than $1,500,000 in refined copper from Chile last year, a falling off of about 40 per cent.

"In the past decade the United States and Great Britain have alternately been Chile's best customer. Great Britain dominated the Chilean export trade for almost 50 years prior to the World war. In recent years that country has at times exceeded the United States in the purchase of copper.

A Silver Throne.
"In 1832 a silver deposit that added millions to Chile's wealth was discovered by a donkey driver near Copiapo. He happened to sit down on it. His name was Juan Godoy and he became the silver king of that period. The United States' importation of silver from Chile last year was only $686,000; Chilean gold coming into the United States was valued at $8,414,000.

"Over 60,000,000 acres are under cultivation in Chile's temperate midland section, producing large quantities of cereals and much wine. "Millions of sheep graze the southland where much English capital is invested in farms and freezing plants. One large sheep-farming company has paid dividends of $14,000,000 over a four-year period. Great Britain is normally the greatest buyer of Chile's wool.

"In the amount of $400,000 the United States last year purchased from Chile furs and the skins of sheep and lambs, goats and kids that had gambled over Chilean pastures only to grace the college campus this year as gloves, jackets and fur coats.

"The United States sold nearly $25,000,000 in goods to Chile in 1938, but economic relations between the two countries have in the past been more extensive than trade statistics indicate. United States capital and corporations have played an important part in the development of Chile, mining nitrate and copper and iron, or helping to build Chile's 5,444 miles of railway.

Peanut Butter Factory Operated by Students

Peanut butter is paying the way of eight students through Little Rock, Ark., junior college.

W. H. Travis, "father of farm chemistry in Arkansas," conceived the idea when he talked with fathers and mothers from rural sections who brought produce to a local curb market, and found that many children from farm homes could not hope for higher education.

He found there was no peanut butter plant in Little Rock. Thus, the students could make and sell peanut butter without competing with another Arkansas industry. Travis broached his plan to Dean E. Q. Brothers of Junior college. Brothers was enthusiastic, and even authorized a small loan from the school to assist in establishing the plant.

The eight boys and girls operating the plant come from rural families in the vicinity of Little Rock. They work five hours a day in the plant, which is located at a local curb market, and attend classes in their spare time. They are paid at the rate of 25 cents an hour.

The students do all the work. They supervise the buying of the peanuts, process them, and market the product.

Early Soil Savers
One of America's first soil conservationists was George Washington. Even before the War for Independence, he was experimenting with ways and means of keeping the soil from washing away from his Mount Vernon estate, in what is now the state of Virginia. Patrick Henry considered the saving of our soil so important that just a few years after the Revolution he remarked, "Since the achievement of our independence, he is the greatest patriot who stops the most gullies." And Thomas Jefferson devised a method of plowing hillsides horizontally to stop the wastage of our lands by erosion.

Brownie, Wineberg Canine Dies in His 13th Year

Brownie is dead. That sentence brings to a close the life story of a dog that was known to every child on West Chestnut street and vicinity; a dog who for 12 years had been one of the familiar figures of the neighborhood.

Brownie was one of a litter of nine pups found under one of the bunks at the Y. M. C. A. camp at Glenview 12 years ago and was claimed by Bob and Anna Van Deusen when they were of an age too young to attend school. The pup and the children grew up together.

Brownie was not a pure bred dog. He was a mixture of Chow,

Collie and even a dog fancier could not tell what other breeds, but he was all dog; lovable, faithful and kind.

Today the children miss seeing the familiar form of Brownie trotting along the sidewalk. They miss hearing his bark of welcome.

Brownie was only a dog, but his life reflected all that man and child desire in a dog.

Rivers Flowing North
The St. Johns river in Florida is supposedly the only river in the United States which flows northward throughout its entire course. There are others, however, which flow north for a part of their course. These include the Monongahela in Pennsylvania, the Tennessee in Tennessee and Kentucky, the Red river of the North in Minnesota and North Dakota, Big Horn in Wyoming and Montana and Powder in Wyoming and Montana.

WEST CHESTER, PA.—The Shawnee Indians 202 years ago voted for prohibition in their tribe, according to Harry Wilson, local historian.

After Pennsylvania authorities refused to regulate the sale of liquor to the Indians the chiefs held a council at Pittsburgh, Wilson asserts, and on March 15, 1737, the emissaries voted to go dry.

Tammany May Get Federal Patronage As Victory Reward

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—A resurgent Tammany Hall, flushed with victory in the New York municipal elections, may reap the first fruits of its triumph in the form of additional federal patronage.

Informed persons here said one of the reactions to the Democratic sweep in New York might well be a change in the federal administration's attitude toward Tammany—an attitude which Tammany men have bitterly complained has been far more favorable to the Fusion forces of New York's peppery little Mayor LaGuardia, than to the regular Democratic organization in the city.

With its ability to deliver the vote once more established, the Hall loomed as a powerful ally or a dangerous enemy in the coming presidential campaign. Few persons here were prepared to say what patronage might be available to feed the Tammany tiger, now stirring after two years' sleep. But it was suggested that the nation's expanding defense program might well open up thousands of new jobs in the federal service.

The lack of federal patronage has long been a sore point with Tammany leaders. One New York city congressman who called at the White House a few weeks ago was reported to have "talked turkey" to the President concerning the patronage situation in New York.

He was reported to have confided to friends that the Chief Executive expressed surprise when informed of the feeling among New York city Democrats and promised to look into the situation.

One New York city congressman still in Washington predicted the decisive manner in which the hall put over its ticket would encourage the return of many laggard party workers and more important still would encourage contributions from business interests who heretofore had considered Tammany a dead tiger.

The victory, he said, virtually assured that the next Democratic presidential candidate would have to do business with the hall if he expected to carry New York state.

Contractors and Architects Guests Schryver Concern

The William C. Schryver Lumber Co., with plants at Kingston and Rosendale, was the host Thursday night to 110 contractors and architects from this section, at a dinner held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Following the dinner there were moving pictures and lectures demonstrating the latest advances in building methods and use of new products.

William C. Schryver presided at the dinner and afterward called attention to the display of wood products which had been arranged about the dining room and which were designed not only to help the woodworker do a better job of work, but at the same time to increase his profit margin. He then introduced Henry G. Schmidt, district manager of W. C. Ogburn, sales representative of the Wood Conversion of St. Paul, Minn. The company is among the leaders in the manufacture of insulation materials, wood board for various uses and new interior trim. It is a subsidiary of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. of the northwest, said Schmidt.

The representative explained the uses of new materials evolved during the past seven or eight years, which have been designed to practically revolutionize building practices and modernization of old structures.

Emphasized was a new wall and ceiling board, known as Stalite, which it is claimed has 70 per cent reflection of light properties—a property that increases with use. It replaces metal works with economy and durability and insulation effects are claimed for the product. New moldings of compressed wood, tile and inlaid wood effects and improved wainscoting and baseboards, were among the hundreds of exhibits that attracted the interested attention of those present until a late hour.

There was particular interest in the demonstration of Balsam wool as a new and better insulating material. Used in conjunction with storm doors and windows it was said to be a marked improvement over some insulating methods now in use.

Common Council Approves $25,000 For WPA Projects

equipment and incidental expenses on projects which have produced the municipal stadium, the addition to the city laboratory, rebuilding of the entire fire alarm system, and the construction of new sewers, water lines, street grading, park improvements, sidewalks, curbs and the reconstruction of Clifton avenue.

It is estimated that $25,000.00 will be needed to carry this program to January 1, 1940. This will make a total appropriation for the year 1939 of $100,000.00.

Our expenditures for WPA have averaged approximately $120,000.00 a year during prior years. It is therefore apparent that there will be a reduction of approximately $20,000.00 in appropriations for the local share of WPA for the year 1939. These annual expenditures have created work for approximately 550 unemployed persons and in addition we have received many valuable public improvements.

I hereby request that your honorable body appropriate the sum of $25,000.00 for the completion of the WPA program for 1939.

Thanking you for the splendid cooperation which your honorable body has always given the mayor and myself in carrying on this program, I remain,

Very truly yours,
JAMES G. NORTON,
City Engineer

McCambridge Named

Mayor Heiselman filed the appointment of Dr. Leonard A. McCambridge of 61 Albany avenue, to fill the unexpired term of Augustus Shufeldt as a member of the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

Mr. Shufeldt had resigned as a member of the board.

To Construct Sewers

The council approved the action taken by the board of public works at its October meeting in accepting the conditions of the state health department in order that the local WPA could construct necessary sewers in First avenue, Fourth avenue, Larch street, Ulster street, Cummings avenue, Second avenue, Hooker street, Lincoln street, Ora Place, Mountain View avenue, Marius street, Third avenue, Kingston street, Rondout street, O'Neil street and Greenkill avenue.

Approval of the construction of the proposed sewers was granted provided the city would ask its consulting engineers to make a study of the intersection and sewage treatment program with a view of selecting a useful unit of the work as a proposed WPA project to be constructed during the coming year.

To Settle Claim

The auditing committee reported in favor of settling a claim against the city filed by John J. Hickey for injuries to his daughter, Jacqueline, allegedly caused by her running into some broken flagstones piled in the yard at 612 Delaware avenue, which he claimed was done by the city.

The committee reported that acting on the advice of the corporation counsel it was recommended that the claim of $90 be settled for $51.

The report was adopted. Bills and claims were read and audited and the council then adjourned.

Hidden Taxes in Kingston Reach Total of $310,830

Families in Kingston pay an estimated $310,830 in hidden taxes annually through their purchases of food, a National Consumers Tax Commission survey showed today.

Nearly eight per cent of the total food bill represents shifted taxes buried in the price of every purchase," the report stated. "These unseen levies, for example, take 11 per cent of butter costs, 6 1/2 per cent of bread costs, 10 1/2 per cent of sliced bacon and 14 1/2 per cent of the cost of coffee."

The report was made public through Mrs. Charles J. Reeder of Carthage, national committee member, who leads NCTC study groups in New York in the educational crusade against "unnecessary consumer-penalizing taxes." The report added: "Chief offenders, and those that fall most heavily on lower income families, are hidden taxes on the producer, manufacturer, shipper and distributor. Unable to absorb the load, each must pass on a share of its taxes and the consumer ultimately pays them, usually without knowing it."

The commission, in whose non-partisan crusade groups in approximately 5,100 communities have launched tax study programs, said the hidden tax figure does not include the many other hidden and direct taxes families here have to pay.

The food tax estimate was computed from NCTC averages based on last available U. S. Bureau of the Census figures which placed 1935 food sales in Kingston at $3,985,000. Government estimates of total sales in the country last year approximate the total in the 1935 study, the NCTC said.

An experimental one-block-long subway was built in New York in 1889. Passengers paid a quarter to ride this world's first subway.

Vote Re-Canvass Is Now Complete

The re-canvass of the vote cast at the general election has been completed by the canvassers representing the two parties, who in company with the custodians of the voting machines have re-canvassed the vote cast. This is a new provision of the election law which provides that after the canvass of the vote on election night by the election inspectors, that a re-canvass shall be made by representatives of the political parties and their canvass filed with the Board of Elections.

This second canvass of the vote is made independent of the regular canvass of the vote on election night and is designed to cover any mistake which might have been made at the first canvass.

The figures of the vote taken on the re-canvass are checked against the original figures by the Board of Elections. This is the first year that the re-canvass has been made under the law.

Next Tuesday at noon the Board of Supervisors will meet as a county board of canvassers to make the official canvass of the vote cast at the general election. The annual session of the Board of Supervisors will start that evening.

TWO DIE WHEN FIRE SWEEPS CONNECTICUT HOTEL

Ten hours after fire had swept through the 100-year-old Beardsley Hotel at Winsted, Conn., rescue workers prodded through the wreckage shown above and came across two bodies so badly burned they could not be identified. The loss was estimated at $40,000.

WHAT IS HOME WITHOUT A GARDEN?

War Garden Vegetables To Plant This Fall

Vegetables which may be planted this fall in the war garden plot are few compared with the many flowers and flowering bulbs which can be put in.

The perennial vegetables, including asparagus and rhubarb, may be planted now. A crop too seldom grown by amateurs is winter or perennial onions grown from sets which if planted now will give green onions for the table before the ground can be spaded for spring planting.

Two of the conveniently planted vegetables can be early spring vegetables in the fall. These are leaf lettuce and spinach, waiting until the last minute when the ground can be worked and then covering the rows with a mulch until frost is out of the ground in the spring. While leaf lettuce usually is held over until spring, and comes quickly enough sown then, old-time gardeners used to sow it in the fall and reap early lettuce from these early seedings.

The ground must be prepared carefully for fall sowing. It is a good thing to spade or plow the whole garden, turning under any compost or manure which is obtainable, to replenish the supply of humus in the soil. This fall preparation will make spring planting easier and earlier, and will also improve the mechanical condition of the soil next spring. Rains will penetrate deeper, and frost action will help mellow the soil.

Spinach should be sown late, but before the ground freezes. It is not intended that the seed shall germinate this fall; but that it shall lie in the ground through the winter and sprout in the first favorable weather of spring.

Spinach is a cool weather crop, usually the first to be sown by market growers in the spring. It must be grown and harvested before hot weather arrives, and fall planting often gives it a start of several weeks.

Select the modern heavy-leaved types to sow. The old-time thin leaf varieties produce fewer leaves of less quality. The new types are more heat resistant and less likely to run up to seed at the slightest suspicion of warm weather.

Multiplier, or potato onions as they are sometimes called, give the first young onions in spring. A few bulbs put in this fall will give you a crop before the onion sets can get into action. They are perfectly hardy.

The asparagus bed may be set this fall, getting roots from dealers. The main requisite is deep rich soil for asparagus and ample room for each hill, giving the plants 3 feet of space each way. Rhubarb roots should be set out now. A dozen plants will be sufficient to provide an ample supply for the average family, and they will last a lifetime, with little care. New varieties of rhubarb which are characterized by pronounced red coloring in the stalk, are now popular. They show improvement in tenderness and flavor over the older types.

When seed is sown, or plants set out in the fall in ground which has been newly spaded, a mulch put over the soil after it has frozen to keep the frost in, is usually advisable. It helps prevent winter thaws which might heave the plants out of the ground, or uncover the seed.

Two Arrests Are Made On Abandonment Charges

Two arrests on charges of abandonment, on bench warrants issued from the office of District Attorney Cleon B. Murray, were made by Deputy Sheriffs Vredenburg and O'Brien yesterday. They were Scott Rozzy, 36, of Accord, who was arrested at Lackawack, and Frank Ferraro, 41, formerly of Glasco, who was arrested at Ellenville. Both were brought to the Ulster county jail, but Ferraro later furnished bail and was released.

YW Membership Tea Attended by 100

Mrs. Robert E. Speer, honorary president of the national Y.W.C.A. was the guest speaker at the membership tea held at the association Thursday afternoon which was attended by over 100 members and friends of the YW.

Mrs. Speer impressed her listeners with her great sincerity and drew from her wealth of experiences at home and abroad. As president of the national board of the Y.W.C.A. for 16 years, Mrs. Speer was able to speak of the work of the YW. She emphasized the importance of the work being done today during the present crisis, explaining what Christianity means to the women of foreign lands.

An amazing experience of Mrs. Speer was her realization of the fact that Y.W.C.A. women carried no hatred in their hearts for the nations with which their country was at war. She felt that the solution of the world lay in the ten commandments in the New Testament and urged that they be studied and applied for making a new and better world.

Mrs. Speer was introduced by Mrs. A. Noble Graham, president of the board of directors of the local organization. A short musical program was given by Mrs. Raymond H. Rignall who sang, "The Pilgrim's Song" by Tschakowsky. She was accompanied by Mrs. Walter T. Tremper.

The members of the board of directors were hostesses for the day under the general chairmanship of Mrs. M. Donald Lane. Tea was served by some of the directors and a group from the Married Women's Club.

Omitted From Reception

On Wednesday evening, November 8, the article appearing concerning the reception given to Right Worthy Sister Gertrude Egbertson, District Deputy Grand Matron of the Greene-Ulster District, Order of the Eastern Star on November 3, at the Masonic Temple by her own Chapter No. 153, O. E. S., a few items were omitted by the Eastern Star which bear mentioning.

Most Worthy Alice M. Scardfield, grand treasurer of the Order of the Eastern Star, was received in the East and introduced by the worthy matron.

R. W. Gertrude Egbertson was presented to the worthy matron by Right Worthy Marguerite Vesels and Right Worthy William E. Moser, district grand lecturer of the Greene-Ulster District, was presented by Worthy Sister Minnie Neebe, at which time, the worthy Matron, Sister Jessie Wolfersleig, sang a beautiful welcome song, "When I'm Looking at You," to R. W. Sister Egbertson.

Following her introduction in the East by the worthy matron, R. W. Gertrude Egbertson received and presented Right Worthy Olympia Conlin, newly appointed assistant grand warder.

During the degree, "Over the Rainbow," the worthy matron charmingly sang the "Wizard of Oz" as R. W. Sister Egbertson was escorted through the Rainbow.

Following the entertainment by Paul Yocan's pupils, all past worthy matrons and patrons, past right worthy officers, and present worthy matrons and patrons who were present were presented in the East by R. W. Gertrude Egbertson.

There were more than 200 members and friends present at the reception to pay tribute to Right Worthy Gertrude Egbertson, who has served faithfully and earnestly for 13 years, missing but one meeting of the chapter in all of this time. Everyone wished her well in her new work and expressed their sentiments in terms of flowers and many gifts. The evening will long be remembered as one of the highlights of Kingston Chapter No. 153, it being a great honor to have one of so loyal and fine character chosen by the grand matron to represent this fine fraternal order in the Greene-Ulster District.

Children's Quarrels

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it possible for neighbors to remain on friendly terms when they both have young children who quarrel and carry tales? The Browns, who live next door, and we were the best of friends until our children were old enough to play in each other's yards. Several weeks ago, Amy (my little girl) invited two other little girls—Barbara Brown and Minnie Jones—over to play. Barbara slapped Minnie and told her to go home from our yard. Minnie then ran next door to the Browns, laid her coat on the ground and filled it like a bundle with sand from Barbara's sand box. Barbara then pulled Minnie's hair until she dropped the coat bundle of sand and then all three got into a fight. My little Amy took sides with Minnie because she was smaller. The sand couldn't be put back because it was all spilled into the grass. Now the Browns both refuse to speak to me or my husband. I am told by other neighbors that they consider an apology from us. We have not apologized as we consider this to be unnecessary between parents. But we are beginning to feel very unhappy about this situation and wish we knew how to mend it.

Answer: The only thing to do, it seems to me, is to impress upon Amy the fundamental importance of preventing the distress of a guest when possible. Children have to be taught responsibility to their behavior, and until they understand this, their parents have to be responsible. At present, the only thing you can do, I think, is to take your Amy by the hand and go over to the Browns and apologize for the unpleasantness that Barbara experienced when she was Amy's guest. You need not go into a lot of tale-bearing. The only point to make is that Amy must understand that a very early age the obligation of hospitality. She and you apologize because a guest's feelings were hurt when Amy was hostess. Guests should also behave properly—but that is another story.

Make-Believe Relatives

Dear Mrs. Post: How should my little daughter address my very close friends? She has a number of real aunts and it seems peculiar to her to say "Aunt Helen" to one who is not my sister; yet it seems peculiar to me to have her say "Mrs. So and So." What is right?

Answer: "Mrs. So and So" is right. Make-believe relationships are bad form when these titles are meaningless. In short, to be a make-believe aunt or uncle is excusable only when this assumed relationship expresses devotion not only between the parents and their friends but between the child and these friends. In other words, an aunt or uncle who is not related by blood must be very closely related by love.

Brain Surgery Reveals

Real 'Dual-Personalities'

Surgery on brain cancers disclosing existence and location of two personalities in every human brain were reported recently to the International Cancer congress.

The operations, described by Dr. Byron Stookey, of the Neurological Institute, New York, removed entirely the prefrontal lobes of four persons, and partly removed those of four others. All are alive today.

The prefrontal lobes, one on each side of the head, fill the entire forward half of the brain cavity. One of these lobes is usually dominant over the other, a fact believed to explain why some persons are left-handed.

These lobes have long been considered the seat of memory, thinking, personality and the imagination which distinguishes man above animals. They receive, simultaneously but separately, impulses from all the rest of the brain.

Dr. Stookey's operations showed that either prefrontal lobe, whether or not it is the dominant one, is able to produce a mentally complete and normal personality. They showed that ordinarily the two synchronize to share this personality work, but that if one lobe is damaged and the other remains intact, the very character of a human being changes.

In that case one lobe fights the other. In Dr. Stookey's words, there is "static" in the damaged lobe, which interferes with smooth operations in the other.

In two of the operations, Dr. Stookey said that the complete loss of one lobe resulted in reported mental improvement. One of these was a man in charge of sending out trucks for a motor firm. His employees asserted that the man's work improved. The other persons reported ability to learn more easily.

A woman reported that frigidity resulted from loss of one of her prefrontal lobes, and that marital relations became merely a duty. One general change noted in those losing a whole prefrontal lobe was ability to make decisions more quickly and persistence in carrying them to completion.

Roosevelt Begins Red Cross Drive

President Roosevelt will launch the annual Red Cross Roll Call in a radio address on November 11 over the combined networks of the National Broadcasting Company, Columbia and Mutual Broadcasting Systems. He will be introduced by Norman H. Davis, national chairman of the American Red Cross.

The broadcast will start at 10:30 p. m., and will switch from Washington to New York and Hollywood for participation by such popular favorites as Fred Allen, Ben Bernie, John Charles Thomas, Clifton Fadiman, Paul Whiteman and his orchestra, Harry Von Zell, Don Wilson, Edgar Bergen and Charlie Mc-Carthy, Connie Boswell, Major Bowes and Jascha Heifetz.

The program has been made possible through the courtesy of the three cooperating broadcasting systems and the donated services of one of the largest advertising agencies in the country. All stars on the program, as Red Cross members, have volunteered their services.

Almost Ready

Hutchinson, Kans. (AP)—James Davis carefully oiled his shotgun, purchased plenty of ammunition and then drove, Saturday night, to his hunting lease where he planned an early morning duck hunt as the season opened. He couldn't recall until 4:30 a. m. Sunday—the moment he was ready to start hunting—what it was he had forgotten. He had neglected to buy a hunting license.

A CANDID TALK WITH—

HUGH HERBERT

WHO HE IS

HUGH HERBERT, born in Binghamton, N. Y., 48 years ago, has been writer, director, serious actor as well as "woo woo" comic. Began acting in stock 35 years back. First professional work was as a voice behind a movie screen in an early "talkie" attempt. He's a graduate of Cornell university and a gardener—for diversion. His trade-mark—"woo woo"—originated when he was playing in a movie with a flock of other comics, all wacky in style. To hold his own in the general nuttiness, he developed a nervous, irresponsible, timid type of personality, made it chirp "woo woo" on diverse occasions. The preview reception pinned the label on him.

"I've read over 2,000 books on the psychology of laughter, but I still believe the only way to test a joke is to try it out on someone. It's up to the public to decide what's funny."

"I'd rather be funny than President. Nothing like a good laugh to clear up a feeling of blue depression. If we all laughed more and worried less, we'd live longer."

Want to Feel like a Big Shot?

PROBABLY you're a big shot already to someone, so you know something of how good it feels.

What we mean is, how'd you like to feel like you used to think a big shot must feel, cruising along in his big brawny Buick, envy of every youngster in town?

Fact is, a big brawny Buick — this year's beauty of a Buick — is within your reach right now, if you just put your mind to it.

A husky headlong 107-horsepowered giant valve-in-head straight-eight can be yours to command — you can roll around town in the staunch and steady carriage that's sure big, beautiful and a bearcat in action when its boss gives the word!

Yes, you can ride in the gentle lap of Foamtex-cushioned luxury — shift gears with a flip of your finger, take bumps without notice in BuicCoil Springing's "full float" comfort, even signal your turns by a touch on a lever that shuts itself off when you're through with it.

And what do you pay for all this — budget-bursting prices?

Ix-nay! On the contrary, you can buy a Buick for less than some sixes! And you'll find when you look into what's included in these prices that they cover many an item that you will be asked to pay extra for elsewhere.

All it takes, really, is the imagination to step up to the car you've really wanted — and once you've made that step, there's no real problem, for this Buick retains its extra first cost in the extra trade-in value it has when you come to buy again.

So lift your sights and go after the car you really want — which means talking to your nearest Buick dealer.

Only car in the world with all these features

Football Selections for Games Slated Saturday

By HERB BARKER

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—Being the seventh chapter of the weekly football guessing contest:

Texas A. and M.-Southern Methodist: Twin powerhouses of the southwest collide and probably will decide a conference championship. S. M. U. has revealed a sturdy defense, but the Mustangs seem to lack Texas A. and M.'s all-around power and class. The nod goes to the Aggies.

Tulane-Alabama: This may be Tulane's toughest test thus far, but we'll stick to the Green Wave. Michigan-Minnesota: The Illinois debacle revealed Michigan weakness that few, if any, even suspected existed. But Minnesota has been no football bargain this year, and this battle is marked for Michigan.

Iowa-Notre Dame: With Nole Kinnick pitching, this might be the spot for the well-known upset, but this corner, for one, hasn't nerve enough to call it Notre Dame.

Cornell-Colgate: There are some who believe the Cornells are bound to get knocked off somewhere along the line. Voicing disagreement, the vote goes to Cornell.

New York University-Missouri: No harder one on the list. Missouri's Paul Christman against N. Y. U.'s Ed Boell. The coin falls and says N. Y. U.

Princeton-Dartmouth: If there's anything seriously wrong with unbeaten Dartmouth, Princeton will uncover it. Until then, Dartmouth.

Fordham-Indiana: The Rams' early season disappointments, are improving and should get past this one. Fordham.

Southern California-Stanford: The Trojans look much too good. Southern California.

Auburn-Villanova: Villanova, but we'd like to have a second guess in reserve.

Harvard-Army: Both well beaten, but Army takes the nod.

Navy-Columbia: On a reverse, Columbia.

Holy Cross-Temple: More woe for the Owls. Holy Cross.

Penn-Penn State: Can't pick anybody except Penn.

Pitt-Carnegie Tech: If they would call this game after the first half, we'd take Pitt. As it is, Carnegie Tech.

Northwestern-Purdue: The Boilermakers are showing signs of wear, while Northwestern is coming along steadily and gets the call.

Illinois-Wisconsin: If the Illini can beat Michigan, they ought to beat Wisconsin. There is a joker in that argument almost as often as not, but we'll still take Illinois.

Chicago-Ohio State: There ought to be a law... Ohio State.

Nebraska-Kansas: Despite the Missouri shock last week, Nebraska.

Detroit-Boston College: Probably close. Out of the hat, Boston.

Georgia Tech-Kentucky: Three guesses ought to be allowed on this. Kentucky is unbeaten and outplayed Alabama. Tech has looked strong all year. The coin is the only possible answer and reads: Tech.

Florida-Georgia: Even enough. Georgia.

Louisiana State-Mississippi State: Very little edge either way, but we'll ride with L. S. U. and Ken Kavanaugh.

Virginia Military-Duke: Duke looks too strong for the Cadets.

Clemson-Wake Forest: Best Southern Conference game of the day with two fine backfields in action behind strong lines. Clemson.

North Carolina-Davidson: A workout for the Tarheels. North Carolina.

Richmond-Virginia Tech: An uncomfortable vote for Richmond.

South Carolina-Furman: The four shorts say Furman.

Georgetown-Maryland: Georgetown to remain unbeaten.

Tennessee-Citadel: Who brought that up? Tennessee and think of a number.

Kansas State-Oklahoma State: Good, but hardly good enough. Oklahoma.

Rice-Arkansas: The law of averages says both of these should win one now and then. Lousie meenie... Rice.

Baylor-Texas: Well ride with Jack Crain and Texas.

Texas Christian-Fulsa: Not

In the lineup of the Arlington, who recently defeated Wassaic, in the Dutchess County League, will be Nick Juliano, Frank Meisner, August MacIsaacs, Nick D'Angelo, Andy Zellerin, Andy Pink, Gus Velletri, Wilson, Smith, Jack Rodgers.

Catholic Basketball Slate Starts at Auditorium Nov. 15

President Al Lynch of the Catholic League today announced that the basketball loop would start on Wednesday, November 15, and run through February 28 with seven teams competing.

Teams in the league are St. Mary's, St. Peter's, Presentations of Port Ewen, Immaculate Conception, St. Joseph's, Holy Name, Wilbur and St. Mary's of Saugerties.

Last night, final plans for the league were completed at the meeting in St. Mary's School Hall and at this session the teams were asked to complete their rosters as soon as possible for a check up to prevent omissions.

Games of the Catholic League will be played Wednesday nights at the municipal auditorium, three a week, starting at 7, 8 and 9 o'clock.

At the meeting, tentative plans were discussed for a bowling league. Leo Schlupp, secretary of St. Peter's League, was named for the same position in the new loop games which will be played on St. Peter's alleys.

Teams named for competition, which is to start on November 20, are St. Joseph's, St. Mary's, Presentations, St. Colman's of East Kingston, Holy Name of Wilbur, St. Peter's, Immaculate Conception and St. Mary's of Saugerties.

Finnish Author Is Awarded Nobel Prize for Literature

Stockholm, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Swedish Academy today awarded the 1939 Nobel prize for literature to Frans Eemil Sillanpaa, Finnish author.

Sillanpaa's best known work is "Silja," a study of a young peasant woman.

His novels have been laid in the west of Finland and deal with peasant life.

Publications include "Hurskas Kurjuss" (Holy Mystery) and "Nuorena Nukkunut" (Fallen Asleep While Young).

Sillanpaa, the son of a Finnish farmer, was born in 1888.

Three Nobel prizes were awarded yesterday—the 1939 prize for physics to Prof. Ernest Orlando Lawrence of the University of California, the 1939 prize for chemistry to Prof. Leopold Ruzicka of Zurich, and the 1938 chemistry prize to Richard Kuhn of Heidelberg.

The last winner of the Nobel prize for literature was Mrs. Pearl Buck.

Evangelists

The West Hudson zone of the Nazarene Young People's Society will hold an all-day rally at the Church of the Nazarene on Saturday of this week. There will be three services, beginning at 10:30 a. m., afternoon session at 3 o'clock and an evangelistic service at 7 o'clock. The speaker will be in charge of the Rev. E. Freeh of Newburgh. The speaker will be Miss Flora Sharpe, and singer, Miss Margaret Kapigan. The public is invited.

There was an attendance of about 300 at the meeting of the Men's Club of the First Reformed Church Thursday night to hear the talk by the Rev. John P. McCaffrey of St. Joseph's Church, on "The Relation of Religion to Crime."

The speaker spoke from an experience of 16 years as chaplain at Sing Sing and there was much interest in the views he expressed. He left the impression that he was not too much in sympathy with the view that the criminal generally is such because of natural handicap and low mentality, disease, heredity or environment.

It was declared that the percentage of disease in prisons was about the same as in the state at large; that it had been shown that most criminals are about as normal as other people and that even in poor environment there are probably ten good boys to one bad one.

Another point brought out was that less than 50 per cent of criminals suffer from lack of school contacts, while two per cent are college graduates and seven per cent have completed high school courses.

Religion was said to be the real need in the warfare against crime and it was stated that 90 per cent of those entering Sing Sing were not connected with any church and were absolute materialists.

'Presumed Lost'

London, Nov. 10 (AP)—The British admiralty tonight announced that "H. M. S. Northern Rover, a small auxiliary vessel, is considerably overdue and must be presumed lost."

State Will Probe Kuhn's 'Private Life' for Motive

New York Nov. 10 (AP)—The state served notice today it intends to go into Fritz Kuhn's "private life" to suggest a possible motive for his alleged theft of funds from his pro-Nazi German-American Bund, while the defense told the jury the prosecution of the bundsfuehrer was due to "political motives."

In his opening statement for the prosecution, Assistant District Attorney Herman J. McCarthy pictured Kuhn as having dipped into the bund's money, and brought the name of a Mrs. Florence Campbell into the case.
"We will show in his own handwriting," said the prosecutor, "that she was more than a casual friend. His interest was keenly sentimental. We do not want to go into his private life, but we must, in order to show the hoaxes he perpetrated on the people of the bund in order to embezzle these funds."

Opening for the defense, Peter L. F. Sabatino pictured Kuhn as the victim of "persecution."

"The indictment of this defendant," he added, "and this trial are purely due to political motives and there is no factual basis for the indictment."

Arrested in West For Ulster County Forgery Year Ago

Bruyn Stokes, alias Ray Stokes, wanted in Ulster county for a number of forgeries alleged to have been committed in Wawarsing, Kerhonkson and Wallkill a year or so ago, is being held by the Los Angeles police.

The specific complaint on which Stokes was arrested was that of Selan Terwilliger, Kerhonkson merchant, who charged that Stokes tendered a forged check for $25.50 on January 17, 1938, in payment for a small purchase, receiving cash for the balance of the check.
The matter was placed in the hands of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation of the State Police and Trooper Metzger and others have been working on the case. They trailed Stokes to California, his mother being a resident of Whittier, Calif., and a couple of days ago he was arrested by Los Angeles police.

Stokes formerly was employed by Stanton M. Babcock, farmer of near New Paltz. He is now being held awaiting word from District Attorney Murray as to what disposition he wishes to make of the case.

Financial and Commercial

Stocks Continue Downward Trend

Although some lines of business show slight seasonal declines, while in others the decline is less, the stock market continues to show the tendency to capitalize on the favorable business conditions. With losses on various issues running as high as two points Thursday, industrials in the Dow-Jones list closed with a net average loss for the day of 1.60 points, down to 148.75, lowest level of the day. Rails lost .56, to 32.88 and utilities were off .22, to 25.73. Trading totaled 1,200,000 shares, with heaviest volume the last hour as 570,000 shares changed hands.

Commodities generally worked downward, with weakness in sterling a factor. Wheat was off sharply, being as much as 1½ cents a bushel in Chicago. Rubber was easier. Cotton advanced on rally in Liverpool and closed up to 15 points higher.
Bonds were dull, with investments improved slightly and Treasury issues firmer. Foreign list was quiet and slightly lower.

Barron's index of the physical volume of business rose to 86.1 per cent of normal for the week ended November 4, as against 85 the week before and 72.8 per cent a year ago. Now stands at the highest point since September, 1937.

Abroad London closed lower. Amsterdam was very weak and Paris irregular.

Final figures show carloadings of 805,862 last week against 834,096 the previous week, a less than seasonal decline.
Ethyl gasoline immediately will start on a $4,000,000 expansion program, increasing production at Baton Rouge by 25 per cent. Pullman will reopen its car plant at Curtis Bay, closed for several years, to meet rush of orders. Wisconsin utilities plan the greatest expansion in ten years.

War fears yesterday had their effect on the foreign exchange markets. Sterling dropped to $3.76½, close to the low point for the year, $3.75, made on September 15. Belgas dropped to 1642, which is 43 points under parity. Dutch guilders were held steady through government aid.
Some earnings report included: Mission Corp., net of $615,469 for nine months ended September 30, vs. net of $934,345 in the 1938 period. Pacific Western Oil, net of $26,197 for nine months, vs. net of $1,071,250 year ago. American Radiator, net of $1,374,757 for quarter ended September 30, vs. net of $153,444 same quarter last year. Pepsi-Cola, net of $4,830,000, estimated, for nine months to September 30, equal to $17.72 a share, vs. net in 1938 period of $2,775,000. Pullman, Inc., net of $2,276,091 in September quarter, vs. net of $599,432 in 1938 quarter.

With passenger revenues up about 15 per cent and freight about ten per cent over last year, the New Haven road had net income in October of about $450,000 as against net of $93,909 in October last year. Net loss of the road for the first ten months of the year is estimated at $3,530,000 against loss of $11,233,167 in the 1938 period.

Mr. E. J. Gildersleeve,
Manager, Broadway Theatre,
Kingston, New York.

Dear Mr. Gildersleeve:

While I have not seen the motion picture "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington," and therefore can express no opinion from actual experience, I have been informed by friends who have seen the picture in New York city that it is one of the best movies that has ever been made relating to the American political scene.

I understand that it is a powerful argument for clean, honest government and, if this is the fact, every American should see it because democracy cannot fully function unless all citizens in America take an active and vital interest in governmental affairs and see to it that their government is conducted according to the highest standards of honesty and efficiency.

Sincerely yours,

CONRAD J. HEISELMAN,

Kiwanis Observes Armistice; Legion Boys Are Present

Armistice Day was observed by Kingston Kiwanis Thursday when members of the club and their ex-service guests paid tribute to the men who have died in service. As guests of Kiwanis members were former service men and past commanders of Kingston Post, No. 150, American Legion, as well as John Melville the present commander of the Post and two Kingston high school boys, Theodore Wood, Jr., and Michael Guido, who won trips to the Legion's "Boy's State" at Syracuse last summer.

President Ed Huben welcomed the visitors, about 25 in number, and turned the meeting over to Program Chairman W. C. Kingman who presented Commander John Melville who said that the Legion and Kiwanis were working toward the same end, that of service to the youth of the country, the city and country. In his opening remarks Mr. Huben remarked of the increasing number of Legion members who are becoming affiliated with Kiwanis and mentioned the newly elected national commander of the Legion, Ray Kelley, and Edward Mulrooney, the new chief of the 40 & 8, both of whom are prominent Kiwanians.

Boys Tell Experiences
Commander Melville, after the introduction of guests, called upon the two youthful speakers who gave their impressions of "Boy's State." This is a camp conducted at Syracuse last year where lads of high school age are formed into groups to represent communities and are taught the system of state and community government. Sponsored by the American Legion the lads are formed into groups to represent political parties and they in turn elect officers for the conduct of their state and city governments. By doing so the lads are taught how a state and community is operated.

Michael Guida of East Kingston spoke on "Camp Routine" in which he told of how the camp was operated and the vast quantities of supplies necessary to conduct the operation where 672 boys were encamped last July. Theodore Wood, Jr., told of the establishments of the camp and the method of operation. Organized as a state the state was divided into seven counties and three cities. A National and Federal party was formed and elections held. After the vote was cast the newly elected officers operated the state, city and county as is done in actual life with a budget for running expenses. Courts were established, public officials were named and the camp was operated as a real community, except that in at least one instance where a violation of the law resulted in the culprit being fined ice cream cones for the boys of the city. The lads thanked the Legion for sending them to the camp and said that they had learned at first hand valuable facts regarding the operation of government.

Object of Legion

Mr. Melville in conclusion stated that it was the object of the Legion to better equip boys for the duty of citizenship and he said that he believed that through such projects as "Boys' State" and similar projects the youths of today were being better equipped to take up the duty of government than had the youths of the past when fewer opportunities had been offered for education in government.

Col. Frank E. Meagher on behalf of the service men in attendance thanked the Kiwanis Club for the invitation to meet with them. He said about 90 veterans of the World War, 15 Spanish-American, eight or nine Civil War veterans and one veteran from other wars were departing every day and he extended his thanks to the Kiwanis for their recognition of the veterans.

The program closed with a prayer by the Rev. Arthur G. Carroll and "taps" by Frank Sass.

Prior to taking up the Armistice Day program election of officers was held. Pratt Boice was elected president; Joseph Deegan, vice president; Harry Ensign, treasurer. As new directors John Comstock and Fred W. Snyder were named.

Next week will be observed as "Past Presidents' Day" with the past presidents of Kiwanis in charge of the meeting.

Guggenheim Heir Is Called Suicide By Gotham Police

New York, Nov. 10 (AP)—Police listed today as suicide the death of George Denver Guggenheim, 32-year-old heir to mining millions, found lying in a hotel room last night shot through the head with a big-game rifle.

Guggenheim, director of the American Smelting and Refining Company, was the only remaining son of Simon Guggenheim, philanthropist and former United States senator from Colorado.

A servant said the father, president of the Smelting Company on which the Guggenheim fortune was built, and his wife, mother of the dead man, had been ill for some time.

Young Guggenheim, unmarried, registered at a mid-town hotel Wednesday under a fictitious name. His body was found by hotel officials who forced their way into his room after he failed to respond to the telephone.

A big-game rifle, which police said had been bought from a New York firm only a few hours before it was fired, lay under the body.

Clarence Osborne, Guggenheim's secretary, said his employer had been under treatment recently for a nervous disorder.

Despite Osborne's statement and another by police saying they had learned Guggenheim tried to kill himself recently in California by slashing his wrists, Louis S. Levy, Guggenheim's attorney, expressed belief the death was accidental. He asked police to continue their investigation.

Levy disclosed he was trustee of a $1,000,000 fund set up by the elder Guggenheim for his son.
